

Graphic Designer

Position:

The League of Women Voters of Houston is looking for a volunteer Graphic Designer to apply our existing brand standards and bring our brand, services and experiences to life in a way that compels and inspires others to participate in civic engagement. As a Graphic Designer on our Communications team, you will design materials for both digital and print, as well as develop templates where applicable to help us share critical information.

As a Graphic Designer on our team, you will be responsible for:

- Leveraging brand guidelines to create new digital and/or print designs for various channels and platforms
- Producing and managing templates when applicable to help distribute critical election information
- Thoughtfully nurturing the existing brand and extending the life of the creative
- Collaborating with the communications team to develop creative solutions for capturing attention, scaling important information and engaging the community in the democratic process

Skills and requirements:

- Relevant experience in the field of graphic design
- Experience applying established brand standards
- Confidence designing graphics in Canva
- Illustration abilities are a plus!
- Excellent communication skills and attention to detail
- Comfortable using collaborative Google products and general online communication abilities
- A flexible schedule that can allow for design turnaround in 2-3 days and the ability to commit approximately 15 hours per month to the organization
- Interest and/or experience in voter advocacy or community initiatives a plus!